About Us

AJS Tap Handles is a division of Hankscraft Inc. Founded in Madison, Wisconsin in 1920, Hankscraft is privately held with over 300 employees, providing customers around the world with a wide range of products and services.

Since 1987, AJS has been manufacturing tap handles and point of purchase displays for the beer industry and is now the largest tap handle producer in the United States. Our ability to accommodate small order sizes, paired with our high volume capabilities gives our customers ultimate flexibility. No matter where you are in the development process, we’ll help you take your idea from dream to reality!
